Rent Control Agent Addresses Solons

COLUMBIANA-Chairman Ray Harrold of the board of affairs was before Council Tuesday evening with a request that it consider a proposal to enlarge the present water softener plant or build a new one of greater capacity. The present plant, built 20 years ago, has a capacity of 250,-000 gallons in 24 hours, but this summer water comsumption has been as high as 410,000 a day.

Mr. Harrold said the board has considered the project of increasing the capacity of the present plant or of building a new plant along the railroad. A plant along the railroad would save hauling material. An auxiliary standpipe at a high point on the east side has also been discussed. Because of the elevation, it could be based on the ground instead of on supports. Members said council would NATO's Southeast Command, co-operate in a solution of the pro-

Tennessee Voters Swarm To Polls

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (P)-Tennesseans swarmed around the state's 2,300-plus voting booths today, eager to cast ballots in heated primary races.

Their votes will decide the political futures of K. D. McKellar, 83year-old dean of the Senate in point of service, and Gov. Gordon Browning, who is out for a third consecutive two-year term.

And they will determine, perhaps finally, what power remains in the hands of flowing-haired E. H. Crump. Memphis political leader whose grip on state-wide politics was broken four years ago by Browning and Sen. Estes Kefauver.

Spurred on by bitter campaign oratory, the voters concentrated on the torrid races for the Democratic nominations for the U.S. Senate and the governorship.

There were hot contests for both Democratic and Republican congressional nominations and in local general elections. But the talk around the polling places was centered chiefly on the chances of McKellar's winning an unprece- Notebook dented seventh term in the Senate and Browning retaining his hold on the governorship.

The Joker In FEPC

Since Gen. Eisenhower is inclined to look at FEPC as a philosopher, instead of as a politician, he is the right man to get down to brass tacks on this tricky issue.

It is tricky because of the way politicians have used it for vote bait. And it is tricky because politicians who use it that way never talk about the joker in FEPC.

The joker is the fact that legal compulsion to keep Americans from showing discrimination would be exerted only against employers though the source of discrimination is more likely to be their employes.

Many employers would prefer to disregard the prejudice of their employes but are prevented from doing so by threats and demonstrations of retaliation on the part of the employes, themselves.

Many entrepreneurs would prefer to disregard all patterns and practices of discrimination, because they resent them and the friction they cause, yet are prevented from doing so by their customers and pairons.

Discrimination is not an issue between private enterprise and those who are discriminated against. That is what the enemies and hecklers of private enterprise want people to believe. They have used FEPC diligently and ruthlessly to hurt private enterprise and for no other reason.

Perhaps Gen. Eisenhower, being new to politics and being utterly candid in his own thinking, will be the first to get down to brass tacks on a subject which has been kicked around too long by old hands at the political game.

If the idea is to make progress toward achieving a society free from unjust discrimination, the first step should be to take the anti-discrimination project out of the hands of politicians and people who think like politicians.

Small Incident With a Big Moral

Lack of interest in federal gambling stamps is pretty strong proof that the utter realists of the gambling business have decided not to throw away bad money after all.

All that they bought when they purchased the federal stamps the first time around was a great deal of undesired attention from local officials who jumped at this easy proof of a matter which otherwise would have required hard proof; i. e., that gambling was going on.

If the gamblers hadn't bought the stamps in the first place, as many of them discovered, nothing would have happened because the Treasury Department was not prepared to crack down on holdouts. Therefore, they are showing a notable lack of interest in buying stamps the second time around.

The moral, pointed out when the suggestion was first made that the federal government should accept responsibility for enforcement of laws against gambling, is simple and direct:

When local law enforcement fails, that can be corrected by local government; but when federal law enforcement fails that is circumstantial evidence of the downfall of a govern-

The United States cannot afford to lose prestige over a gambling stamp law it is unable to enforce.

That is how the corruption of law enforcement officials begins. Washington has enough corruption as it is without calling in local gamblers to help things along.

Everybody Ready?

Notices of contract terminations being sent out by United Mine Workers are giving none of us a chance to forget that John L. Lewis remains to be heard from this year.

Since it was Lewis who helped to teach Philip Murray and the other executives of the CIO how to keep themselves in power, it's a safe guess he will do something momentous.

John Lewis invented the CIO. He was the first of the modern labor leaders to make a pact with a political party. He was not the first to align himself with a movement to overthrow the government of the United Statesthe Wobblies and Anarchists beat him to that. But he was the first to take advantage of the organizing skill of Communist conspirators to recruit members for his unions.

John Lewis is a trail-blazer in modern unionism. His United Mine Workers is a model of organization and discipline, approached but not surpassed by Murray's United Steelworkers and Walter Reuther's United Auto Workers.

Therefore, Mr. Lewis will try to maintain his position in his handling of a potential coal strike. He must outdo all the others in the bitterly competitive business of union leader-

It is even possible John Lewis might be the first of his kind to understand that the best way for a union boss to stay on top of the heap is to quite calling strikes. Everybody knows the bosses can cripple the national economy at will. Union members know it. They have the debts to prove it.

They must be wondering what it would be like to have a union boss who would keep them on the job.

The question before the house is when are they going to come down in price to the point where we can buy one?

At the same rate, farm land today would be worth $68.5 billion, plus $26 billion for buildings.

The increase in value of farm lands reflects the general inflation in prices and incomes. Demand for farms is weaker than a year ago because of higher farm production costs, a slump in prices of some farm products. ### Once Over

Ready For Business

The hiring of General Douglas MacArthur by a big corporation shows a belated realization by big business that if it is to get anywhere against heavy attacks all along the line, it needs field-marshals, mobile reserves and better battle plans.

For two decades business has been out in No Man's Land under a heavy barrage from the Bureaucratic Zouaves, the Political Hussars. the Pinko Snipers, the Professorial Parachutists and the Tinkerers' Tank Units. It has really needed trained fighters more than the Army and Navy. Business has been surrounded for 20 years. It has been "coming in on a wing and a taxbill."

A general gives it what it needs, a military front, combat experience and long experience on the firing line. And if big business needs a general, small business could use both a general and an admiral. (It is all at sea in a heavy undertow of forms, bulletins, questionnaires and directives.) The hiring of Mac-Arthur may be the forerunner of wound stripes for stockholders. Such traditional corporation offices as president and general manager may give way to a generalissimo and a chief of staff. Why not? War is war!

IF WE WERE investing in a corporation today we would not ask for its last quarterly statement. We would ask for its last battle report. You can have the annual statements; just give us the company's current communique in the battle with Washington. Never mind what bankers are on the board; how is it fixed for five-star generals? Doug MacArthur is famous for the words "I shall return," (If every businessman could say as much as that, what a break it would be!)

ALTHOUGH AMERICA won the Olympics, Russia has vetoed the victory. . . . The Soviets had their own official scoring committee made up of Alice in Wonderland, the Mad Hatter, the Walrus and the Oysters. . . . A Soviet sports fan never has to ask who's ahead. . . . He has been notified by Pravda long in advance of the contest. . . . This system relieves the Soviet fans of all tension and confusion. . . . It does away with locker-room pep talks. . . . The coach just says, "Boys, go out there and, remember, I am depending on you to ignore facts."... The cheer is a simple "Razzle dazzle, razzle dazzle, sis, boom, bah! Can we lose a contest? Nah! Nah! Nah!". . . . The system is perfection itself. . . . (Under it Malik, who wasn't playing, won every track event. . . . Molotov captured the water contests in a terrific last-minute burst of ultimatums.)

WE HEAR Farouk has a recurrent nightmare in which Cleopatra appears and asks him, "Wanna borrow an asp?". . . . "10 Hurt in Police Wagon"-headline. . . . It's getting so a man can't get into jail without getting into trouble. . . . Why should it be considered unusual that Doug MacArthur has become an industrial chieftain? . . . Didn't he get the business from Truman? . . . . Roger L. Putnam, who blames everything in the steel strike on the employers, is a descendant of the famous General Putnam, but the General, when he rode top-speed down a flight of stone steps, didn't do it backwards. . . . Our hat's in the air for "Ivanhoe," a beautiful, stirring and inspiring movie of the Sir Walter Scott tale. . . . What a relief to see Hollywood get away from the "Drop that gun!" and "Stick 'em up, Butch"

IKE EISENHOWER is to go into "every nook and cranny.". . . . We have been trying to analyze the situation and determine if we are a nook or a cranny vooter. . . . (We were with the nook factions in 1948, but have gone over to the cranny group in 1952.) . . . . Johnny Johnson, another lad famed for his songs of "Love Through Eternity" and "Be Mine Forever and Ever" has taken his third wife. . . . (There must be something wrong about the lyrics.). . . . There have been such upsets in Egypt we wouldn't be surprised to hear that the Sphinx had started talking.

EXCITING, CREATIVE possibilities of jewelry are never underestimated by one of the leaders in the field, Madame Majeska. She urges women to be daring with their pearls, rhinestones and beads. For the slender, fragile-type woman, the designer suggests a ninestrand bib of graduated pearls. The bib pictured at the left has a gunmetal-colored baroque pearl in the center of each strand and a teardrop gunmetal- pearl hangs from the center of the last strand. Cluster earrings of white pearls match the necklace. The mature woman, in the opinion of Madame Majeska, should wear two choker necklaces, while her younger friend adorns her throat with a three-strand bib necklace combined with a longer necklace inspired by the Elizabethan revival in fashion (center). Both key their earrings and bracelets to the necklaces. All figure types and especially the mature figure, will be flattered by the two choker necklaces pictured at the right. They are easily adjustable to any neck size because of a special adjustable closing. The top pecklace is of clusters of white pearlized vari-shaped flowers, while the lower collarette type necklace is of colored carved beads between two rows of white pearls linked with a small chain of gold. Madame Majeska firmly believes jewelry must suit your individual beauty.

Merchants Capture 20th Victory, Whip New Springfield

Merchants Take 12-5 Decision

Play Negley Sunday In Final Contest

The Salem Merchants came up with their 20th victory last night in New Middleton when they topped New Springfield, 12-5, with a 12-hit attack.

With Dave Kachner winning his sixth victory for the locals and allowing just nine hits, the locals knocked out 12 hits, three of them being triples by Bob Miller, Claire Weingart and Dempsey Balsley.

The Merchants started off their hitting attack in the initial frame with two runs but they also allowed New Springfield two markers. Both teams went scoreless in the second frame but the locals came back with a marker in the top of the third. Four big Merchant runs were tallied in the top fifth and three additional runs in the sixth inning.

Wally Ulrich, Doug Ford and National PGA Champion Jim Turnesa, all bracketed within three strokes in the All-American.

In the $12,000 women's professional section, defending Champion Babe Zaharias is making her first competitive try since an early June hernia operation. Her chief o rival appears to be Louise Suggs. who won the $1,000 first prize in 4 the All-American women's open.

All-American Champion Frank Stranahan of Toledo defends his world's amateur crown, but faces stiffer going than in his nine-overpar 297 conquest last week end. His foes will include Bill Campbell of Huntington, W. Va., 1948 and 1949 world champion; Jim McHale of Philadelphia; and Wilford Wherle of Louisville, Ky, Thirteen amateurs will compete.

Raps Homer As Torrid Hitting Continues

Doby Sparking

Tribe Victories

ST. LOUIS (#)-Just when they needed it most, outfielder Larry Doby has provided the Cleveland Indians the punch to keep them in the American League pennant

Sixteen days ago, the Tribe trailed the New York Yankees 71/2 games and were written off by almost everyone but die-hards. Today the Indians are only three be-

Wednesday's 7-1 victory over the Chicago White Sox was the 11th in 16 games since Cleveland began its comeback. Doby homered off southpaw Bill Kennedy in the first inning after Bob Avila had singled, and that gave Early Wynn all the runs he needed to pitch his 13th victory against nine losses.

Doby's homer was his fourth in the last eight games and he now leads the league in homers with 24 and in runs-batted-in with 78.

Since the Indians bounced back from the double loss to the Yanks July 22, Doby, has driven home 21 runs in 16 games and hit seven Wynn tossed a five-hitter at the White Sox. He would have had a shutout if he hadn't given his second walk of the game to Minnie Minoso in the ninth. Minoso scored when Eddie Robinson singled and Doby let the ball get by him.

After the first inning Kennedy held the Indians to one hit for four rounds, striking out the side in the second inning. But in the sixth a single by Avila and two walks filled the bases and Ray Boone hit a two-run single.

Three more Tribe runs came in the ninth off Harry Dorish who allowed three hits, gave a walk, heaved a wild pitch and was charged with a balk.

Fresh Fruit Desserts Win Cheers

By CECILY BROWNSTONE Take advantage of fresh peaches and pears to make two luscious desserts. One is an old standby, Peach Cream Pie. The other combines chocolate peppermint sauce with pears and ice cream for a new taste treat.

PEACH CREAM PIE

2 egg yolks 2 tablespoons sugar

1/8 teaspoon salt 1 tablespoon plus 3/4 teaspoon cornstarch

1 tablespoon fortified margarine

(melted and cooled) 1 cup scalded milk

1 teaspoon almond flavoring 1 8-inch baked pie shell

1 cup sliced peaches (sugared and drained) Whipped cream for topping

Peach slices dipped in lemor juice for garnish

Beat egg yolks: beat in sugar gradually. Add salt, cornstarch and margarine and mix until blended. Add hot milk gradually, stirring well. Stir constantly over low heat until thickened.

Cool and stir in almond flavoring. Line bottom of pie shell with peaches and top with custard. Top with whipped cream and garnish with peach slices. Serve at once. Makes 6 servings.

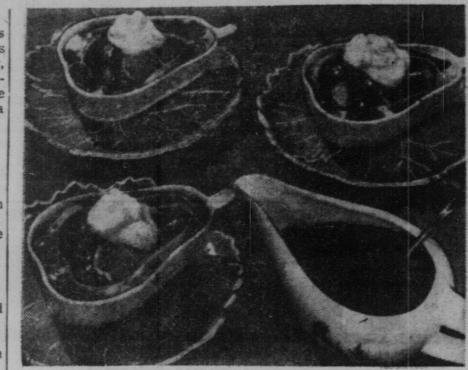

PEAR AND CHOCOLATE MINT SUNDAE

½ package (30) mint chocolate

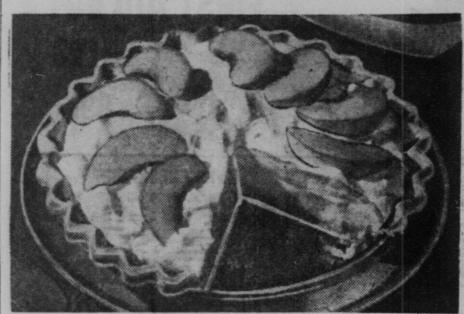

1/2 cup plus 2 tablespoons evaporated milk (at room tem-

½ cup whipped cream Vanilla ice cream Peeled fresh pear halves

Whipped cream (for garnish) Melt mint chocolate wafers over hot (not boiling) water. Remove from hot water and stir until 1/2 cup whipped cream.

Heat this wholesome cereal before sprinkling over the rarebit mixture. Creamy and crunchy at the same time, this casserole dish is a recipe to add to your "often-used" file. TUNA RAREBIT

- 2 tablespoons butter 4 tablespoons flour
- 1/4 teaspoon dry mustard
- ½ teaspoon salt
- 1/4 teaspoon pepper
- 2 cups milk 2 cups sharp American Cheese,
- grated 1 7-oz. can flaked tuna fish
- 1½ cups Corn Soya

Melt butter over hot water; stir in flour and seasonings. Add milk gradually and cook until thickened, stirring frequently. Add Worchestershire sauce, cheese and flaked tuna fish. Stir until cheese is melted and tuna fish is hot. Serve immediately over heated corn soya shreds, or serve in individual casseroles with corn soya shred sprinkled on top. Yield: 6 servings (1/2) cup per serving).

Egg, Milk Bread Is Nutritional

The Missouri experiment station of the U.S. Department of Agriculture has developed a new bread that has its whole pound weight packed with balanced nutrition. It's lusty news. Here it is in their own words. Eggs and milk offer the nutrients needed to combine with enriched flour to make bread a balanced food. Here's a newly developed egg and milk loaf, aimed to carry its quota of vitamins, minerals and protein in proportion to its calories or fuel value.

This pound loaf was calculated to supply about half the daily food allowance of a moderately active man, with the exception of vitamin C. The recipe calls for no synthetic vitamins or minerals. Ingredients for the loaf made with dried eggs and milk are: 3 cups enriched flour

- 1/2 cup dried whole milk Two-thirds cup dried whole eggs 3 tablespoons margarine or but-
- 1 cake compressed or dried
- 1 cup water

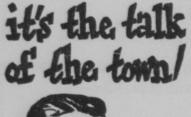

To combine ingredients, first sift 2 cups of the flour with the dried milk. Add half cup of water to the dried eggs and beat slowly until smooth. Dissolve sugar and salt in a fourth cup of water. Soften yeast in the other fourth cup of water. Melt butter or margarine in a bowl over hot water. Combine eggs, sugar, salt, yeast and butter or margarine. Add half the flour-milk mixture and beat about 3 minutes. Add the rest of the flour-milk mixture and stir. Finally add the last cup of flour, half at a time, stirring after adding. Then knead, shape and bake, according to directions.

To make the bread with fresh milk and eggs, use:

- 4 cups enriched white flour 3/4 cup whole milk
- 3 tablespoons butter or marga-
- 2 tablespoons sugar
- 1 cake yeast 1 teaspoon salt, no water

To combine ingredients, sift flour before measuring. Scald milk, add sugar, salt and butter or marga-

Good Cook Known By Biscuits

It has been truly said that the sign of a good cook is in her biscuit baking. Light, fluffy, flavorful biscuits complement any meal. Especially at breakfast are biscuits, hot from the oven, very welcome.

Good biscuits are not difficult to make. Be sure to measure ingredients and follow each recipe step as directed. For instance, in our recipe below, allow the All-Bran to soak in the buttermilk for a few minutes. The cereal will absorb the liquid and help make your biscuits light and moist.

Biscuit dough can be varied in many ways. One suggestion is to roll the dough into an oblong shape about 1/4 inch think. Spread with
